

Supervisor (m/f/d) for refractory installations

VGH Viktoria Garten Hüttenindustribedarf GmbH

to start immediately

VGH GmbH produces and markets refractory products for the steel industry and foundries.

We have our own sales network and work in close cooperation with well-known steel works suppliers from both Germany and other Western European countries.

VGH GmbH possesses wide expert knowledge as a manufacturer of concretes and has developed an extensive portfolio of refractory materials for the steel industry under its own brand theramer™.

Do you have vast experience in the installation and supervision of refractory linings (e.g. steel ladle, EAF)? Are you interested in being involved in technically demanding and innovative projects?

Your tasks:

- Independent monitoring of trials and deliveries of our refractory products for the primary metallurgy (e.g. steel ladle, torpedo, tundish, converter, EAF) at our customers' premises worldwide
- Reliable contact person for our customers in all matters of delivery and repairs
- Writing of reports, in particular on current working life and opportunities
- Instruction and professional guidance of the personnel on site
- Ensuring compliance with legal and company regulations, especially related to work safety
- Ensuring compliance with quality requirements and cooperation in the product development

We offer:

- Long-term career prospects in a growing company
- Systematic training for a new area of responsibility
- Challenging, varied tasks and independent problem-solving approach to work
- Short decision paths and direct exchange with key decision makers
- Further development and training opportunities (internal and external)
- Employee benefits: Christmas and vacation pay, capital-forming benefits, company pension scheme, discounted lunch, corporate events
- Open and collegial working atmosphere

Requirements:

- Qualification as a refractory brick layer/foreman
- Driver's license (class B)
- Professional experience at a steel plant and in the refractory industry; experience in managing production teams
- Ability to read technical drawings
- High willingness to business travel and flexibility to changing working hours
- Reliability, personal responsibility and an independent, result-oriented way of working
- High level of (intercultural) communication skills and teamwork
- Good knowledge of German and English

Please send your application documents (CV, certificates/references, letter of motivation) with the information about your desired salary and the earliest possible start date in electronic form only to
